Step Get Your Nursing License Verified

To get your nursing license verified, you can do it in two ways. These ways are explained as under:

#1

Electronic verification

Board of nurses has come up with an excellent way to communicate with the nurses who are requesting the licensure verification.

There is an active online website www.Nursys.com. They are offering different categories in which the verification can be done.

Nursys have e-notify which automatically updates the license status regularly. Whether it is related to the expiry date or the status update, it can be done through Nursys e-notify.

Nursys quick-confirm grants this free service in which you can search about the nursing license and related information.

The third category is the Nursys licensure verification. Through this portal, you can easily check the verification of license between different boards of states. All you have to do is follow the following steps.

- Go to the website www.Nursys.com
- Open your desired option
- Fill out the form by adding your valid license number or your name or security number.
- The result will show you that your license is valid in which state and where you can apply safely.

#2

Postal Verification

For the postal verification, you must first get a form from the concerned board of nurses.

Fill out the form and attach with it the all compulsory documentation. Such as;

- Your security number,
- Your valid license number,
- Your identity proofs.
- Then add the cashier's check of $ 25 to the form.
- Send it to the address of the concerned board.

Also, add the name and the valid postal address so the verification can be returned to you.
